

Salah Mohamed

Laboratory and Group Leader of Cardiac Surgery, University SH-Lübeck

1991-1998 Studying at the University of Bremen. Diplomstudy (degree level studies) in cell and molecular biology.

1998-2002 Working as a scientific co-operator of the DNA-Laboratory, Institute of Legal Medicine, Medical University of Lübeck. Including scientific research DNA and mtDNA, Fingerprinting and Typing. Co-operation with various European laboratories for the investigation of German DNA polymorphism (GeDNAP).

2001 PhD-Degree.

Since 2002 Laboratory and group leader in the Department of Cardiac Surgery of Lübeck.

Interests

- Cardiac development and malformations
- DNA mutations, Genetic mapping
- Aging
- Biochemical markers